Aims and Ethos

The individual is the focus of all the school's activities. We aim for the highest standards in all that we do.

We nurture mutually respectful relationships amongst all members of the school community.

Initiative is both demonstrated and encouraged by a committed staff who give much to the pupils, and ask much of them in return.

The ethos and values of the school are summed up in its Ethos Statement and Mission Statement, which are given below.

Ethos Statement

Quinton House School aims to provide a safe and caring 'family' environment in which the character, personality, individuality and awareness of each pupil are developed, and an approach to life is encouraged which accords with Christian values in the broadest sense.

The School seeks to help each pupil to achieve his or her individual potential and to promote his or her academic, personal, social and moral development. The School aims to inspire each pupil and to foster a genuine love of learning through his or her years in education and beyond.

We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expect all those who work with our pupils to share this commitment at all times.

QUINTON HOUSE SCHOOL

Mission Statement

Quinton House School is committed to providing a quality education for its pupils, a safe and nurturing environment and aims for excellence in all that it does. High standards and expectations shall permeate every aspect of school life and be evident in the behaviour, attitude and appearance of its pupils.

The school stands for and will actively promote such qualities as:

- commitment
- compassion, courtesy and consideration for others
- good humour
- industry
- integrity
- loyalty
- pride in achievement
- pride in appearance
- self-discipline
- self-respect and respect for others
- service

The school strives to raise the aspirations of all pupils, and so to encourage, extend and inspire them that they obtain examination results that are the utmost they can achieve. Examination success, the outcome of effective teaching and learning, is thus one of the school's key performance indicators.

Care for the individual as a whole and about his or her personal development and extracurricular involvement complements the emphasis on academic achievement, and demonstrates the richness of the school's provision for its pupils.

A high calibre staff, who are caring, dedicated and enthusiastic, work as a team in the pursuit of the school's aims. Quinton House is unashamedly ambitious (although not pretentious), striving continually to improve itself, and to enhance its local, national and international reputation.

All staff, pupils, parents and members of the governance panel are expected to share this vision and to accept their personal responsibility for upholding and improving standards, at all times.
